

SUMMARY

Preface. . . . .	V
Bibliography. . . . .	XXI
Summary . . . . .	XXXIII

CHAPTER I.

Roderic de Borgia's youth.

ARTICLE I. — Birthplace of Roderic de Borgia.

Born in Spain, in the diocese of Valencia. . . . .	1
Mariana and others wrongly assign the city of Valencia. . . . .	2
He was born in the city of Xativa. . . . .	2
Rejoicings in Xativa at Alexander VI's election. . . . .	4
Where in Xativa was he born and baptized? . . . . .	5
Xativa admitted as birthplace by historians generally. . . . .	5

ARTICLE II. — Time of Roderic de Borgia's birth.

Was he born in A. D. 1427 or 1451, or in 1430 or 1431? . . . . .	6
Testimony of Burchard on Alexander's age. . . . .	8
Papal documents indicate the time of Roderic's birth. . . . .	9
Was born on the last day of 1431 or the first of 1432. . . . .	9.

ARTICLE III. — Roderic de Borgia's youth.

Riding a pony, Roderic's recreation. . . . .	10
Moves to Valencia after his father's death. . . . .	10
He was a brilliant student and a pious boy. . . . .	10
A cadet, he was destined for the Church. . . . .	12
Receives a benefice in A. D. 1447. . . . .	13
General remarks on benefices. . . . .	13
Several benefices granted to young Roderic. . . . .	15
Papal bull enabling him to leave Spain for Italy. . . . .	18

ARTICLE IV. — Roderic at the University of Bologna.

Roderic studies Canon Law in Bologna, October 1453. . . . .	19
When did Roderic arrive in Italy? . . . . .	19

He went to Bologna, when 17 years old, in 1449.	20
Pastor, carping at others, greatly mistakes the time.	21
New dignities of Roderic de Borgia.	22
Matagne deficient in information.	23
More dignities for Roderic.	24
Resigns dignities in Xativa in favor of Jofre Lançol.	25
Appointed rector of two fat parishes.	25
He congratulates his uncle elected pope, Calixtus III.	26
Is made a prothonotary apostolic.	26
He returns to the University.	27
His fellow student, Floriano Dolfi, turning against him.	28
Graduates as "The most eminent and judicious Jurisprudent".	29
Returns to Rome and receives new benefices.	29

CHAPTER II.

Roderic de Borgia created a cardinal.

Created with the advice of each cardinal.	31
Gregorovius denies, and Pastor comments on, the unanimous consent.	31
Special privileges signed by all cardinals.	32
Cardinal de Borgia to replace an unworthy rector.	33
Roderic, proclaimed a cardinal, receives the red hat.	34
Pastor blames the Pope for the nomination, approved by Aeneas Sylvius.	35
Pastor's arrogant sentence without appeal	37

CHAPTER III.

Stupid tales about pope Alexander VI.

Alexander VI, as youth, cardinal or Pope, not known to have ever met Vannoza.	39
A manuscript tale of Roderic's pretended immorality.	39
Roderic's bilocation and adverse duality.	41
Roderic was a cleric from early boyhood.	41
He murders a boy, and goes unpunished.	42
He attends to his father's large business.	43
Is a lawyer, a cleric, a knight errant, a soldier.	43
The lampoon admitted, yet worthless of consideration.	45
Pope Alexander VI denies having been a soldier.	45
Roderic becomes a page, a clergyman again, a gambler, a loafer, a debauchee.	46

Twenty-eight years old, he lives in Spain with a lady and her two daughters, of whom he takes one in lieu of a legitimate wife, and raises five bastards.	47
By cunning he keeps general esteem.	48
Is called to Rome by Calixtus III.	50
Made archbishop of Valencia and legate to Portugal.	50
He sends his family to Venice.	50
Rodrigo goes to Rome and plays the hypocrite.	51
Calls his concubine to Rome in A. D. 1490.	52
Calixtus III made him bishop of Albano and Porto, and sent him to Portugal and Aragon where he misbehaved.	53
Sixty years old, Roderic dances at night with the old woman.	53
Cardinal Borgia elected Pope by all the cardinals.	54
The lampoon still copied, after Mariana and Raynaldi.	56

CHAPTER IV.

Cardinal de Borgia under Calixtus III.

ARTICLE. — The cardinal Governor Legate of the March of Ancona.

Appointed Governor of the March, A. D. 1456.	59
Receives expectatives and the abbey of Clairvaux.	60
Benefices, more expectatives and special faculties.	61
Favors for his courtiers who follow him to his province.	61
The legate finds a castle in the hands of a rebel, captures the castle and sends the rebel to Rome.	63
Receives the provosty of Mainz and more expectatives.	63
Is made bishop of Girona in A. D. 1457.	64
Punishes the rebel de Clavellis in Fabriano.	65
Receives the abbey of Heremides in Palencia.	65
Must replace the marshal and prevent fraud in revenue of salt.	65
Friendly letter of Aeneas Sylvius' to cardinal de Borgia.	67
Piccinino plotting with Ferdinand of Naples.	68

ARTICLE II. — Cardinal de Borgia Vicechancellor.

The cardinal proposed and named vicechancellor.	69
Finishes first his work in Ancona.	70
The vicechancery and its branches.	71
The college of "Solicitors" erected by Sixtus IV.	72

Cardinal Borgia donates part of his fee : 1000 ducats. . . . .	73
The Dataria, Prothonotarii and Abbreviators. . . . .	73
Pius II reduced the number of the abbreviators and the cardinal's rights. Paul II and Sixtus IV made new changes. . . . .	74
The Scriptores and the Bullatores. . . . .	75
The papal notaries, recorders, tax-collectors. . . . .	75
The Sacra Rota Offices paid for and paying well. . . . .	77
Fees and duties of a vicechancellor. . . . .	77
He was allowed to appoint lieutenants and assistants. . . . .	78
He governed the Chancery well for thirty-six years. . . . .	79
Named commissary general of the papal army. . . . .	80
He was not prefect of Rome, duke of Spoleto nor envoy to Aragon. . . . .	81
Calixtus III sells him the old mint. . . . .	82
The vicechancellor builds his palace, the vicechancellery. . . . .	82
Short of money, he receives more expectatives and the abbeyes of Holy Angel and of Fossanova. . . . .	83
He restores property abstracted from Fossanova. . . . .	83

ARTICLE III. — The cardinal, bishop of Valencia.

Cardinal de Borgia named bishop of Valencia. . . . .	84
Many mistakes in regard to this nomination. . . . .	85
The diocese was worth 10,000 ducats, but the cardinal was deprived of several benefices, perhaps of the diocese of Girona. . . . .	86
The cardinal offers a pension to his competitor. . . . .	87
His officials and coadjutor in the diocese. . . . .	88
The cardinal sustains his officials. . . . .	89
He opposes the interference of Spanish inquisitors. . . . .	89
Valencia exempted from its metropolitan. . . . .	90
Bishop Borgia made archbishop of Valencia. . . . .	90
Requires unpaid revenues and alienated property. . . . .	91
Demands his abbey of Valdegna. . . . .	92
Enlarges the cathedral building. . . . .	93
Defends the rights of a generous donor and of benefices. . . . .	93
An indulgence in favor of the restoration of the Valencian Cathedral. . . . .	94
The cardinal favors the Poor Clares and charitable institutions. . . . .	95
Stops a bishop preaching false doctrines. . . . .	96
Restrains the Spanish Inquisition in all Aragon. . . . .	97
Insists on canonical visitations. . . . .	98
Revives the laws of the cloister and reforms convents. . . . .	99
Obtains faculties for the benefit of clergy and laity. . . . .	101
Hurries to the death-bed of Calixtus III. . . . .	102
Advices his brother, Pedro Luis, and helps him flee from Rome. . . . .	103
Death and burial of Calixtus III. . . . .	104

CHAPTER V.

Cardinal de Borgia under Pius II.

ARTICLE I. — During the first two years.

Conclave of Pius II in A. D. 1458. . . . .	105
The cardinal decides the election by his "access". . . . .	106
The envoy of Milan misrepresents the facts. . . . .	107
The cardinal, who had restored his own title church, St. Nicholas in the Tullian Prison, is made administrator of Santa Maria in Via Lata, which he also helps to renovate. . . . .	108
He helps Pius II obtain the papal fortresses. . . . .	109
Receives benefices and pensions. . . . .	110
Accompanies Pius II to the Congress of Mantua. . . . .	110
Builds the episcopal palace at Pienza. . . . .	111
Romagna and Bologna disloyal to the Pope. . . . .	112
The Congress a failure, while cardinal Borgia was an exception for fidelity. . . . .	112

ARTICLE II. — Monitory letter of pope Pius II.

No testimony against the cardinal's morality. . . . .	113
Some admit, others deny, the authenticity of the letter. . . . .	114
The papal brief. . . . .	115
Gregorovius, de l'Epinois and Pastor exaggerate the brief by mistranslation. . . . .	117
No assertion of wrong, no inquest, a rumor. . . . .	118
Time between the deed and the rebuke. . . . .	119
Incredible circumstances of the alleged misconduct. . . . .	120
The Pope calls it all "frivolity". . . . .	121
Reply of cardinal Borgia. . . . .	122
Final brief of pope Pius II. . . . .	123
One indiscretion would make the cardinal notorious, while long infamies would remain unnoticed by Pius II and his three successors. . . . .	125

ARTICLE III. — Cardinal de Borgia during Pius II's last years.

The cardinal receives the abbey of St. Mary of the Rock. . . . .	127
Pays for thirty men of the papal army. . . . .	128
Translation of the head of St. Andrew. . . . .	128

The cardinal obtains the abbey of St. Mary of Rivipula and priories. . . . .	129
Feast of " Corpus Christi " in Viterbo. . . . .	130
The cardinal congratulates the new doge of Venice. . . . .	132
Is named bishop of Carthagena. . . . .	132
Reforms the Carthaginian diocese with help of the Pope. . . . .	133
Temporal lords prevented from robbing the clergy. . . . .	134
The cardinal made bishop of Majorca, prior of S. Paul " extra muros " and a dignitary of Tortosa. . . . .	135
Builds and equips a galley against the Turks. . . . .	136
To pay for the vessel, he offers his palace for sale and must mortgage it. . . . .	137
He rents houses, imposes a " subsidium charitativum " on his churches, leases his benefices for three years for cash. . . . .	138
Accompanies Pius II to Siena. . . . .	139
Pius II requests the help of the cardinals. Untimely imputation of Pastor. . . . .	140
The cardinal promises to embark for war against the Turks. . . . .	140
Crusaders and the Pope go to embark in Ancona. . . . .	141
A plague breaks out in crowded Ancona. . . . .	141
The cardinal stricken assists at Pius II's deathbed. . . . .	142
Returns to Rome, acts at the Conclave and soon is well. . . . .	142
Shameful calumny against cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	143

CHAPTER VI.

Cardinal de Borgia under Paul II.

Cardinal de Borgia worked for Paul II's election. . . . .	147
He recovers former rights to appoint abbreviators. . . . .	148
Is charged with the diocese of Murcia. . . . .	148
Receives and resigns the archdeanery of Darocha. . . . .	148
Is granted the abbey of Valdeгна and other favors. . . . .	149
Receives permission to transfer the corpses of his father, and of his brothers and sisters. . . . .	149
Is exempted from the jurisdiction of his Metropolitan. . . . .	150

CHAPTER VII.

Cardinal de Borgia under Sixtus IV.

ARTICLE I. — The cardinal at the election of Sixtus IV.

Cardinal de Borgia, influential at the conclave. . . . .	151
Blame of Ammanati. . . . .	152

Ammanati hard on Popes and colleagues. . . . .	152
Ammanati's interested request of reconciliation. . . . .	154

ARTICLE II. — Cardinal de Borgia, Administrator abbot of Subiaco.

The cardinal appointed abbot of Subiaco. . . . .	155
Grants a weekly fair to the town of Subiaco. . . . .	155
Restores Trevi to the monastery. . . . .	156
The community gave him the seignory of Marano. . . . .	157
The administrator secures to the abbey the full seignory of Gerano. . . . .	158
He rebuilds the fortress of Subiaco. . . . .	158
Procures to the abbey H. Angels convent near Trevi. . . . .	159
Subiaco united with Farfa, disunited and united again. . . . .	160
Sixtus IV. takes from the rebel Colonna Anticoli and Ciciliano and restores them to the abbey. . . . .	160
The cardinal obtains spiritual privileges for the monks. . . . .	161
When a pope, he grants more such privileges and several temporal favors. . . . .	163

ARTICLE III. — Roderic de Borgia, cardinal-bishop of Albano, ordained and consecrated.

He is named bishop of Albano. . . . .	164
He was a " Venerabilis Frater " on October 31st, 1471. . . . .	166

ARTICLE IV. — Cardinal de Borgia named a Legate to Spain.

Appointment of five Legates " a latere ". . . . .	167
Expenses to be provided for. . . . .	168
The cardinal obtains expectatives and benefices. . . . .	168
He can lease for three years all his revenues. . . . .	168
Is allowed to make a last will. . . . .	169
Preparations for his departure. . . . .	170
The bull and the objects of the legation. . . . .	170
He was provided with almost papal powers. . . . .	174
Sixtus IV anxious for the Legate to depart. . . . .	176
The Legate doing papal work. . . . .	177

ARTICLE V. — Legate de Borgia in Spain.

Lands in Valencia. . . . .	178
He holds a diocesan synod. . . . .	180
His opening address. . . . .	180

Remarks on his speech. . . . .	186
He was not a Renaissance scholar, but knew Law and Scripture. . . . .	188
The address not written by the cardinal of Pavia. . . . .	188
The Legate announces tithes in Valencia. . . . .	189
He reconciles the murderers of the bishop of Pamplona. . . . .	190
Visits the King and clergy of Aragon. . . . .	191
Hands to Ferdinand the dispensation to marry Isabella. . . . .	192
Mediator between John II and rebel Barcelona. . . . .	192
He meets Ferdinand in Valencia. . . . .	194
Imposes tithes in Aragon. . . . .	194
Invited by the king of Castilla. . . . .	195
Received in Madrid by king Henri IV. . . . .	196
Promises the red hat to Peter de Mendoza and proposes Auxias de Podio for the cardinalate. . . . .	197
Fails to pacify the Castilian factions. . . . .	198
Convokes the high clergy to Segorve and publishes tithes. . . . .	198
Celebrates a national council. . . . .	199
Institutes the theological canons. . . . .	199
Promotes councils and synods. . . . .	200
The question of tithes and indulgence oblations agreed on. . . . .	200
Visits Valencia on his return. . . . .	201
Visits his native city, Xativa. . . . .	203

ARTICLE VI. — The Legate returns to Rome.

Makes a codicil in favor of his cousin, Jofre de Borgia. . . . .	203
Storm on his return. . . . .	204
Effects of the cardinal's mission. . . . .	205
The cardinal of Pavia praises his labors. . . . .	206
Sixtus IV praises the Legate and settles accounts with him. . . . .	207
Cardinal de Borgia remains a Legate in Spain. . . . .	209
Behavior of the Legate in Spain. . . . .	210
Each accusation refuted. . . . .	212
No hint at immorality but from the stupid lampoon. . . . .	213
The Legate rewarded with several benefices. . . . .	214

ARTICLE VII. — Cardinal de Borgia promoted and made Legate to Naples.

The cardinal accompanies the Pope on his flight from the pest in Rome. . . . .	216
Promoted to Porto. . . . .	217
Appointed as Legate to Naples. . . . .	218
He blessed the King's marriage and crowned the Queen. . . . .	219
Tried in vain to export wheat for Rome. . . . .	220
Other duties and rewards. . . . .	221

ARTICLE VIII. — Cardinal de Borgia, Governor of Nepi,
Ascoli and Cività Castellana.

Sixtus IV borrows from cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	222
Names him governor of Nepi, etc. . . . .	223
The cardinal rebuilds the fortress of Nepi. . . . .	224
He lends, i. e. gives three thousand ducats more. . . . .	224
Recuperates lost property for the fortress. . . . .	225
Mild government of Nepi and Cività Castellana. . . . .	225
Codification of the Cività Castellana Statutes. . . . .	226
When Pope, he grants Nepi to cardinal Sforza. . . . .	227
Nepi having become vacant, is given to Lucretia de Borgia. . . . .	228
Cività Castellana subjected to the Roman Camera. . . . .	229
Pope Alexander VI rebuilds the castle of Cività Castellana. . . . .	230

ARTICLE IX. — Cardinal de Borgia under the last years of Sixtus IV.

Keeps the deanery of Jaén at his disposal. . . . .	231
Receives several pensions. . . . .	232
Is named protector of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem. . . . .	232
Appointed archpriest of St. Mary Major in Rome. . . . .	233
Restores and beautifies the basilica. . . . .	234
Institutes a school of church music. . . . .	235
Receives more benefices. . . . .	235
Sixtus IV visits the cardinal at Porto. . . . .	236
Demise of pope Sixtus IV. . . . .	237

CHAPTER VIII.

Cardinal de Borgia under Innocent VIII.

The ambassadors' candidates for the tiara. . . . .	239
Cardinal Borgia advises to elect the best fitted man. . . . .	241
Cardinals de Borgia and della Rovere carry through cardinal Barbo. . . . .	241
An untrue imputation of Thuasne. . . . .	242
Cardinal de Borgia receives new benefices. . . . .	243
Is made governor of Suriano. . . . .	244
A robber's fight in Suriano. . . . .	244
Receives and resigns the diocese of Seville. . . . .	245
The Pope sends his physician to the indisposed cardinal. . . . .	246
Many new benefices and right of lease. . . . .	247

The cardinal gives away an archdeanery and a canonry. . . . .	248
He obtains the abbey of Peterwardein. . . . .	249
Gives away the monastery of Regali and accepts two more abbeys in Hungary. . . . .	250
Obtains more benefices. . . . .	251
Named bishop of Majorca, receives other benefices. . . . .	252
Roman celebration of the surrender of Granada. . . . .	253
The cardinal is named bishop of Erlau and receives other benefices. . . . .	253
Is promoted from bishop to archbishop of Valencia. . . . .	256
Death of pope Innocent VIII. . . . .	256

CHAPTER IX.

Cardinal de Borgia in public life.

He was loved by the people and esteemed by his colleagues. . . . .	257
He was to prevent an illegitimate being created cardinal. . . . .	258
His influence on the conclaves. . . . .	260
Cause of his influence with the Popes. . . . .	260
He was the distributor of papal favors. . . . .	260
Interfered in the creation of cardinals. . . . .	262
Procures peace with Naples. . . . .	263
His intercourse with Kings and princes. . . . .	265

CHAPTER X.

Cardinal de Borgia in private life.

ARTICLE I. — The cardinal's appearance, virtues and vices.

Personal features of the cardinal. . . . .	267
The cardinal's mental qualities. . . . .	269
He was an orator by nature. . . . .	272
Had knowledge of literature, history and rubrics. . . . .	273
Excelled in Canon Law and Holy Scripture. . . . .	273
He had a large library. . . . .	274
Writings of cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	275
He encouraged literature and science. . . . .	277
His piety towards the Blessed Sacrament. . . . .	278
His devotion to the Virgin Mother of Christ. . . . .	278
His altar in Santa Maria del Popolo. . . . .	279
His veneration of the Saints. . . . .	280

His kindness towards his fellow-men. . . . .	281
His charity for the sick and the poor. . . . .	282
Was hard on himself, labored much, ate, drank and slept little. . . . .	283
The cardinal accused of hypocrisy. . . . .	284
After work, listened to comedies of Plautus and looked at popular festivities. . . . .	285
He is not accused of immorality. . . . .	285
A letter of Ammanati. . . . .	286
Ammanati does not admonish but is admonished. . . . .	288
Also twice by cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	289
Cardinal de Borgia's admonitions prove his own morality and disprove the reality of Pius II's rebuke. . . . .	290
Proofs of the cardinal's good morals. . . . .	291

ARTICLE II. — Cardinal de Borgia's riches and expenses.

The cardinal occupies a neat palace and rented houses. . . . .	292
He enjoys the revenues of many dioceses, abbeys, etc. . . . .	293
Rich furniture of his mansion. . . . .	294
Pastor calls the cardinal both vain and stingy ; Gregorovius, more justly, makes a distinction. . . . .	295
The cardinal's brilliant court. . . . .	297
In a few years he procured benefices to more than four hundred of his courtiers. . . . .	297
His court filled with the elite of the clergy. . . . .	298
He employed in Rome many of his courtiers. . . . .	299
Which caused great expenses. . . . .	300
Some of the cardinal's largesses. . . . .	301
He was financially embarrassed at times. . . . .	303
He was compelled to borrow when elected Pope. . . . .	304

CHAPTER XI.

Cardinal de Borgia elected Pope.

ARTICLE I. — Preparations for the Conclave.

Death of pope Innocent VIII and disorder in Rome. . . . .	307
Mass of the H. Ghost, with Carvajal as preacher. . . . .	308
Main parts of the oration. . . . .	309
Leonello de Chierigatis had given the same advices at the burial of Innocent VIII. . . . .	312
No hope of Cardinal de Borgia's election, if he was as he is misrepresented. . . . .	313
Place of the Conclave. . . . .	314

ARTICLE II. — Cardinals electors.

Roderic de Borgia and Oliverius Caraffa. . . . .	315
Baptista Zeno. . . . .	316
Giovanni Michiel. . . . .	316
Giuliano della Rovere. . . . .	317
George de Costa. . . . .	317
Jerome Basso della Rovere. . . . .	318
Domenico della Rovere. . . . .	318
Paul Fregoso. . . . .	319
Giovanni Conti. . . . .	319
John James Sclafetano. . . . .	319
Lawrence Cibò. . . . .	320
Ardicinus della Porta. . . . .	320
Antoniotus Pallavicini. . . . .	321
Maffaeus Gherardo. . . . .	322
Francis de' Todeschini Piccolomini. . . . .	323
Raphael Sansoni Riario. . . . .	324
John Baptist Savelli. . . . .	324
Giovanni Colonna. . . . .	325
John Baptist Orsini. . . . .	325
Ascanius Maria Sforza. . . . .	325
Giovanni de' Medici. . . . .	326
Frederic Sanseverino. . . . .	326
Four cardinals absent from the Conclave. . . . .	326

ARTICLE III. — The candidates of the temporal princes.

Election Capitulations. . . . .	327
Ferdinand of Naples opposed to cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	328
Activity and guesses of the ambassadors. . . . .	328
The only difficulty was to find the best man. . . . .	330

ARTICLE IV. — Cardinal de Borgia elected unanimously.

The first scrutinies unsuccessful. . . . .	331
All the electors agree on cardinal de Borgia. . . . .	332
His unanimous election is his justification. . . . .	332
The unanimity testified by Ferno, Valori, Manfredi. . . . .	332
Item by the Pope himself. . . . .	333
Item by the orators of Lucca, Florence, Genoa, Mantua, Milan. . . . .	333
Item by the contemporary historians, Schedel, Porcius, a con- tinuer of Platina, Stella, Sigismondo de' Conti. . . . .	334
Item by Ciaconius, Panvinio and by the lampoonist. . . . .	335
H. de l'Epinois allows but twenty votes and Pastor and de Magri fifteen only. . . . .	336

Reasons given, at the time, for the choice. . . . .	337
H. de l'Epinois is puzzled but not convinced. . . . .	340
No general corruption to explain the election. . . . .	340
The workings of corruption, quite the contrary. . . . .	341

ARTICLE V. — Pope Alexander VI elected canonically.

No simony before or during the conclave. . . . .	342
No cardinals revealed or confessed simony. . . . .	344
Valori reports the election as canonical. . . . .	344
No ambassadors present, but absent intimate simony. . . . .	344
Lawfulness of election attested by the envoys of Florence, Venice, Naples, Mantua, Montferrat, Milan and of Avignon. . . . .	346
Also by cardinals d'Aubusson and G. della Rovere, and by bishop Chierigati. . . . .	347
By the duke of Lithuania. . . . .	348
By contemporary diarists. . . . .	349

ARTICLE VI. — Accusations of simony refuted.

Raphael of Volterra does not accuse and Peter Martyr is not reliable. . . . .	349
Not Burchard but Infessura accuses. . . . .	349
Cardinal Gherardo receives no bribe. . . . .	350
Infessura's mule loads of silver. . . . .	351
Manfredi's original accusation exposed. . . . .	352
H. de l'Epinois here copies part of the lampoon. . . . .	354
Pope Alexander VI donates his palace to cardinal Sforza. . . . .	354
Did cardinals della Rovere and Sforza accuse Alexander VI of simony? . . . . .	356
Italian revengeful lords hire slanderers at the Pope's death. Bembo and Jovius calumniate for favor or money. . . . .	357
Raynaldi copies, and adds to Infessura's slanders. . . . .	358
Pastor tries to prove the pretended simony. . . . .	359
Alexander VI performed a duty, like other Popes, by granting vacant offices and dignities to his electors. . . . .	361

ARTICLE VII. — Infessura and Pastor exonerating some cardinals from the crime of simony.

Infessura clears five cardinals; Pastor, eight. . . . .	361
But the cardinal de' Medici receives favors, money and offices. . . . .	363
Cardinal Basso receives the diocese of Palestrina. . . . .	364
Cardinal Cibò, soon after, receives the diocese of Venice. . . . .	364
Cardinal Zeno receives a monastery and other favors. . . . .	364

Cardinals de Costa and Piccolomini received favors. . . . .	365
Cardinal Caraffa obtained several benefices. . . . .	365
Cardinal Giuliano della Rovere received a dozen or more offices, dignities and favors. . . . .	366
Did Alexander VI buy the votes of absent cardinals? . . . . .	368
Does a certain bull of Julius II prove that Alexander's election was simoniacal? . . . . .	369
Julius II's bull had no relation to any former election. . . . .	369
Alexander VI had prepared a similar bull. . . . .	371

CHAPTER XII.

Cardinal de Borgia proclaimed pope Alexander VI.

He takes the name of Alexander VI. . . . .	273
Enthusiasm of the Romans, restoration of order. . . . .	374
First appointments of officials. . . . .	374
Torch procession and bonfires. . . . .	375
The Pope accused of arrogance. . . . .	376
His humility in announcing his election to archduke Sigismund. . . . .	377
His humility in answering to Lucca, Florence and Genoa. . . . .	377
Legend of his escutcheon. . . . .	378
He asks prayers and gives alms to obtain divine help. . . . .	378
The Pope to be "a ravenous wolf" is ridiculous. . . . .	379
Joy of the Romans at the election. . . . .	380
Festivities in Milan, Bologna, Montferrat, Valencia and Xativa. . . . .	381
The election caused no horror nor lamentation (Guicciardini). . . . .	382
Ferdinand of Naples congratulates the new Pope. . . . .	382
Trotti, not the Venetians, was dissatisfied. . . . .	383
Universal satisfaction at cardinal de Borgia's election. . . . .	384

CHAPTER XIII.

Coronation of pope Alexander VI.

Preparations for the coronation. . . . .	385
Contemporary descriptions of the solemnities. . . . .	385
The procession to St. Peter's. . . . .	386
The coronation and procession through Rome. . . . .	387
The Pope grants freedom to the Jews. . . . .	388
At St. John of Lateran. . . . .	388
The Pope returns to the Vatican by torch light. . . . .	389
More particulars of the coronation procession. . . . .	389
Numerous grants and concessions on coronation day. . . . .	391
Legend of the "sedes stercoraria" of Corio. . . . .	392
First consistory and restoration of public peace. . . . .	394

CHAPTER XIV.

Solemn obeisances and congratulations of temporal princes and powers.

Solemn obeisance of Siena. . . . .	395
Of Fano, Urbino, Bologna and Lucca. . . . .	396
Project of common congratulations of Milan, Florence and Naples. . . . .	397
Obeisance of the duke of Ferrara, of Mantua. . . . .	398
Deputation from Florence, Milan and Genoa. . . . .	398
Solemn obeisance of the king of England. . . . .	400
Congratulations of Venice. . . . .	400
Respects and false promises of Ferdinand of Naples. . . . .	401
Infessura misrepresents prince Frederic of Naples and cardinal Giuliano della Rovere. . . . .	402
Homage of Montferrat, Savoy, Portugal, Hungary and Germany. . . . .	403
Homage of France and by Charles VIII personally. . . . .	403
Presents from Sweden. . . . .	403
Embassy from cardinal d'Aubusson. . . . .	403
Obeisance of the kings of Hungary and of Scotland, of the Emperor and of the duke of Savoy. . . . .	404
Act of obeisance from the kings of Spain. . . . .	404
Homage of king Louis XII and of his queen, Anna duchess of Brittany. . . . .	406